Pro XL-C: "The World Traveller" – a very tough box. A 6mm, high-density, strong corrugated polyethylene outer shell, with a frame plate, 6 tie-downs, 2 wheel straps, reinforced hand-holds, and H-strap system. Fully lined and complete with foam pads. The box folds flat when it is not in use and is super strong and durable when assembled. Great for tours, the Pro XL-C has been as far as New Zealand, Tibet and Outer Mongolia with no reports of a mishap to box or bike (see sample reviews).

Customer Reviews

Below are samples of the customer reviews of Crate Works boxes that can be found at the U.S. website at www.crateworks.com/reviews.html

BIG RING CYCLERY

"The bikes arrived safe and sound; we were not charged for extra baggage on our flights and the assembly was easy. Other people in our group of 33 had problems with other carriers including oversize charges, too big for transport in taxis, banged up frames and unwieldiness on airport luggage carts." - Alex Homkohl

VELO NEWS

"Carrying the box was a breeze on the way to the airport, with only my bike, helmet and minimal loose gear stowed within... On two intercontinental flights, at least a dozen train trips and several car transfers, the box remained structurally sound and protected my bike. The PRO XL held ample amounts of extra gear accumulated during my trip. I...preferred the PRO XL to several systems I've used over the years for its light weight, durability, serviceability and intelligent design." - Rob Coppelillo

BICYCLING MAGAZINE

"Crate Works are easy to use bike cases you can ship again and again... these cases are cheaper, lighter alternatives to full-on hard cases, and offer far more protection than standard cardboard boxes."

WANDERING WHEELS TOURS

"...30 members of our New Zealand Tour Group used Crate Works Pro XL-C Bicycle Travel Boxes on our recent trip. I am happy-to-say that not one bike was damaged and the boxes all came through with flying colors." - Bob Davenport

PRO WHEEL CADDY

There is an optional wheel caddy with 2 casters that straps around the case to allow you to wheel it along, advisable if you plan to go long distances on foot with the case or your packed bike and accessories will add up to a heavy package.

Pro wheel caddy: £25.00
